BLUE/GREENS

Saturated, soft blues and greens are proof that the kitchen can inspire mindfulness just as much as any other room in the home. When used with an aged, patina finish in a low or matte sheen, complemented by a calming neutral wall color, this cabinet palette is the perfect way to create a sense of serenity in this common gathering space.

MODERN

The modern palette exemplifies the “New Neutral” – a swing from the ever-popular cool gray to the trending warmer “greige”, with hints of taupe. These grays blend well with their surroundings, and, when used on frameless cabinets with simple hardware, complement the industrial details of a modern space and create a sophisticated, streamlined look.

TIMELESS

Tried and true, shades of white and soft gray remain as popular as ever for cabinets and bring a sense of balance and simplicity to the kitchen. Cabinets in these classic hues are versatile – they can be the focal point of the room or the perfect blank slate, allowing other elements in the room, like the walls, countertops and islands to take center stage.

No longer seen as just a functional space, the kitchen has undergone a transformation and has become a true cornerstone for the home's design. Especially with Millennial homebuyers, who value self-expression, customization and maximizing the appeal of the rooms they spend the most time in—open formats, mixed materials like metal, glass and concrete, and smooth, matte finishes are gaining prevalence. The ornate carvings, corbels and thick moldings of yesterday are giving way to the rise of the clean, European-inspired look.

PAINT VS. STAIN

While stained cabinets are still prevalent, painted finishes have overtaken them and are continuing to grow rapidly in popularity. Whites and grays continue to be the most sought-after colors for kitchen cabinets, but darker, bolder hues, like soft black and navy—particularly in matte or low gloss levels—are on the rise.

THE ISLAND

The kitchen island is no longer just an extension of counter space—it's being transformed into the house charging station, space for hidden small appliances and the perfect gathering spot for entertaining. The island is oftentimes the focal point of the kitchen, making it the perfect place to incorporate a pop of bold color.

TWO-TONE

Two-tone, or tuxedo cabinets, have grown in popularity over the last few years, and this trend doesn't appear to be slowing down soon. This look, which includes light cabinets paired with contrasting, darker cabinets, is a great way to break up monotony and add visual interest.

CABINET STYLES

Shaker continues to be a leading cabinet style, with contemporary and transitional styles splitting the rest of the market. When it comes to hardware, straight, clean lines fit right in the with the streamlined kitchen styles of today. Polished or brushed steel finishes remain popular and copper and gold finishes, as well as hardware-free cabinets, are also on the rise.

HIDDEN APPLIANCES

Hidden appliances are becoming increasingly popular due in part to the trending "minimalist" look and the fact that kitchen space frequently comes at a premium. Toe kick drawers, floor to ceiling cabinets to lodge concealed refrigerators, icemakers, and pantries, and appliance garages are being used frequently to clear counter space.

From Boomer to Millennial, traditional to modern, the color palettes in this card were hand-selected by the Sherwin-Williams Color & Design experts.

For a Better Finish, Ask Sherwin-Williams.

Sherwin-Williams has you covered when it comes to staying on top of the latest color and design trends.

COLOR

Vibrant or muted, bold or calm, color makes all the difference in the world of wood finishing — more so than ever as painted wood products gain significant market share. Our color experts know what's trending hot and cold in both pigmented and stained finishes.

DESIGN

What sold yesterday may not be what sells next week — or next year. Our experts keep company with and follow international design experts to keep a finger on the pulse of what is popular now, and what is coming in the future. They provide guidance on product design to help sell your product lines and plan for future enhancements.

SERVICE

Because exceptional results take more than a great color or design, our comprehensive team of experts is available on site at your location, in one of more than 70 facilities across North America, or at our color center in Greensboro, North Carolina, to help you maximize the quality of your finish. As a global company, we also coordinate from the GCDC to tier finishers and contract manufacturers in Asia.

CUSTOMIZATION

Whether you're a finisher of furniture, cabinets, floors or architectural millwork, you can benefit from our design and color expertise. We take the time to learn more about you so we can provide a personalized plan to meet your specific aesthetic, performance and process requirements.

Since 1866, Sherwin-Williams has provided manufacturers and finishers with the coatings they need to make their products look better and last longer, while helping their operations meet productivity and sustainability goals. For the industrial wood market, our innovative solutions go beyond coatings to include knowledge, tools, equipment, supplies, and industry-leading support. For a better finish, ask Sherwin-Williams.
